Cinema: History, Art & Influence

by Dr Salma

What Makes a Film Great?

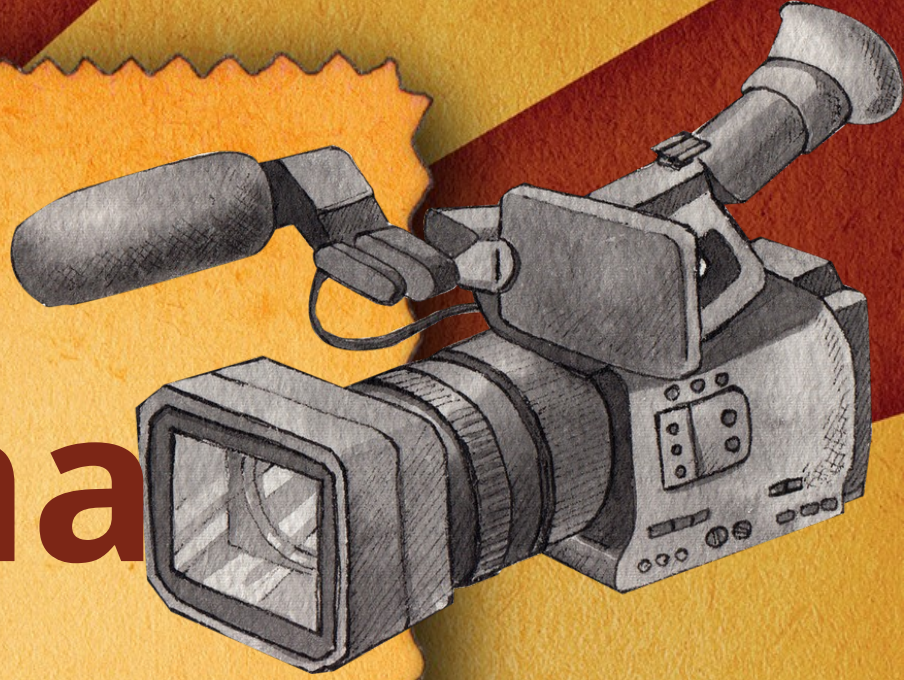

- What is the best film you have ever seen?
- What matters more: story or visuals?
- Do awards define quality?

Pick a movie from the list below or one from your mind:

- The Godfather
- Citizen Kane
- Avatar
- "The Pursuit of Happyness"
- Interstellar

And provide reasons for why you liked it or why this movie is considered one of the best.

The History of Cinema

01.

- Early cinema (silent films, black & white)
 - Golden Age of Hollywood
 - Color & sound revolution
 - Digital cinema

02.

Pick one era and present it to your colleagues:

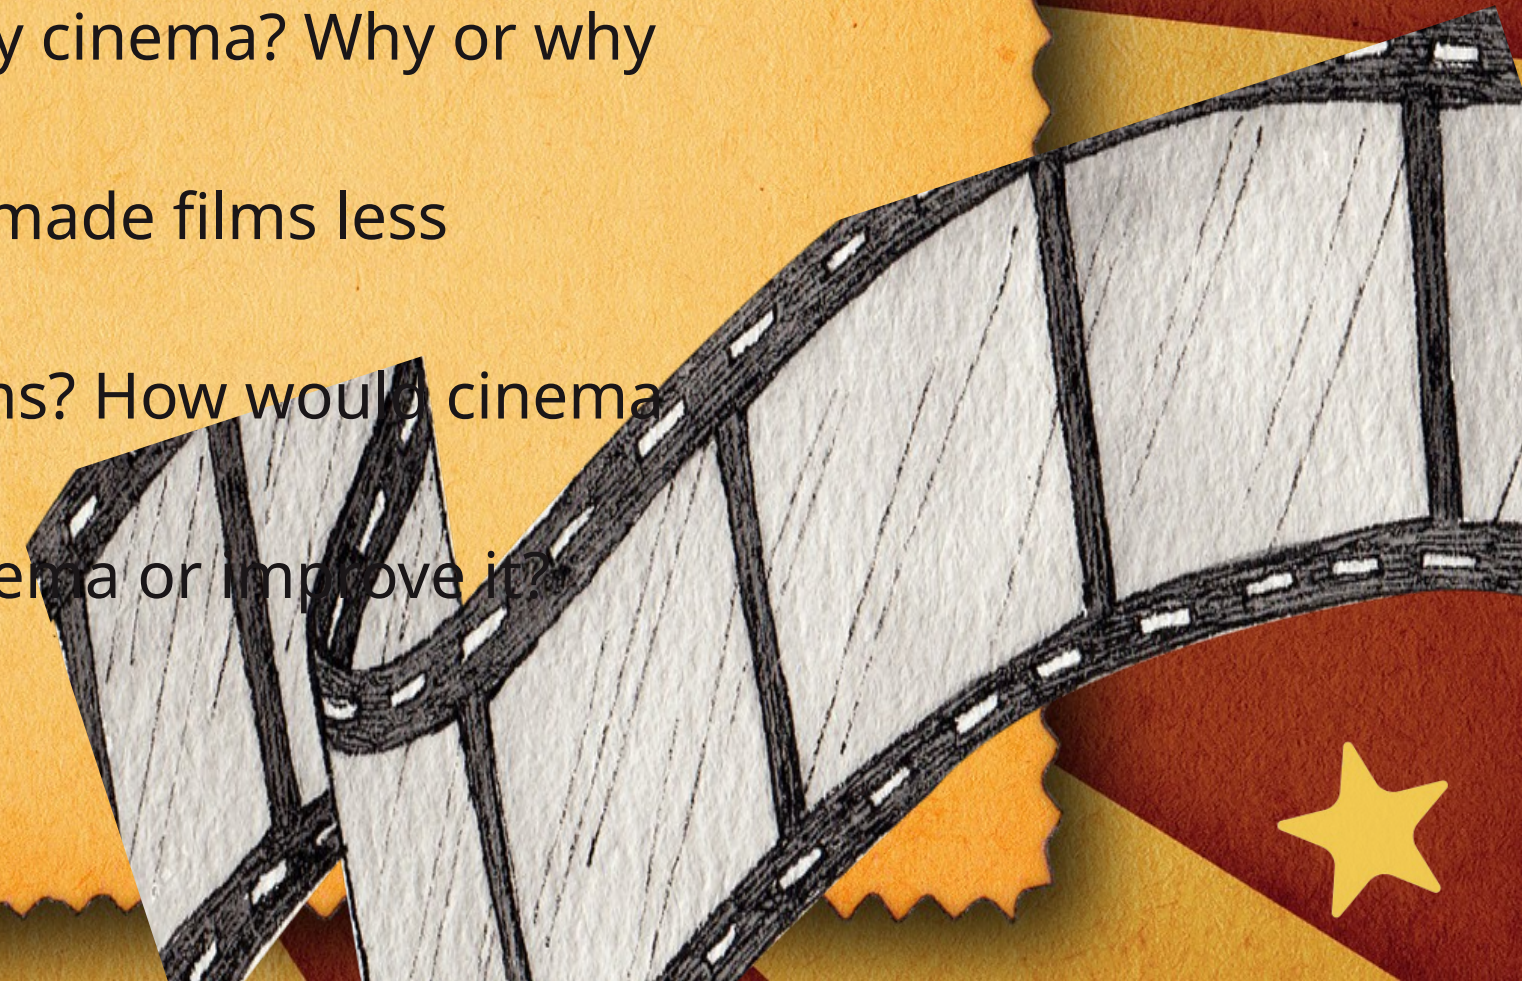

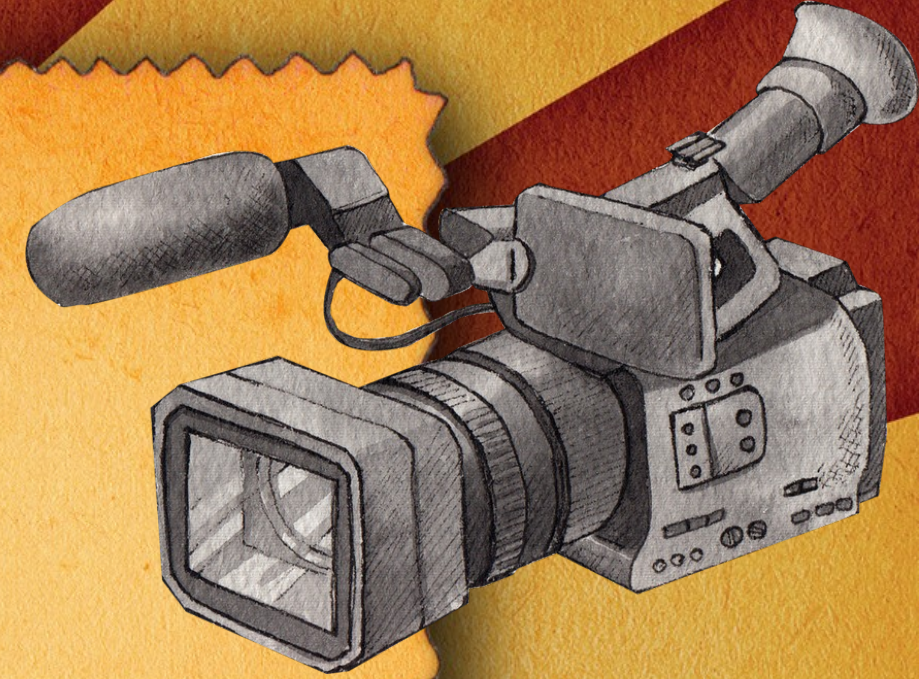

1. Identify major developments?
 2. What changed audience experience?
 3. Which era had the biggest impact?

Reading

- What were the key developments that shaped early cinema?
- Why was the silent film era important for cinematic storytelling?
- How did sound change the film industry?
- Why is Citizen Kane considered influential?

Critical Thinking

- Do you think modern cinema is better than early cinema? Why or why not?
- Has technology improved storytelling, or has it made films less creative?
- What if sound had never been introduced in films? How would cinema be different?
- Do streaming platforms threaten traditional cinema or improve it?
