

Professional Demeanor

Life Skills Unit

Workshop Outline

- Business Code Of Conduct
- Organizational Image and Off-duty Conduct
- Work Attitudes
- Going the Extra Mile
- Personal Distance and Privacy
- Professional Appearance and Dress Code
- Business Etiquette

Business Code Of Conduct

Business Code Of Conduct

Definition

Specific and detailed formal statements that describe what an organization expects of its employees. It includes principles, standards or rules of behavior that guide the decisions, procedures and systems of an organization, and outline the responsibilities and the proper practices for an individual.

Business Code Of Conduct

Cont'd

Importance of Business Code of Conduct:

- Define the acceptable behavior
- Avoid conflicts of interest
- Manage shared information and confidentiality
- Protect intellectual property and copyrights
- Prohibit discrimination and harassment
- Protect and improve the organization's reputation
- Report fraud or unethical behavior

Organizational Image and Off-duty Conduct

Organizational Image

Organizational image is defined as the way in which our entire organization is perceived, or simply, who others think we are.

Organizational Image

Cont'd

Off-duty conduct

- Off-duty conduct is the behavior of the employee outside work.
- To determine whether there is any action that a company can take regarding your employee's lawful off-duty conduct, two questions should be answered:
 - ▶ Is there a relationship between the off-duty conduct of the employee and the performance of the employee's job?
 - ▶ Does the employee's off-duty conduct put your business in an unfavorable light with the public?

Organizational Image

Cont'd

Off-duty conduct

- If the answer of one of those two questions is "Yes", then the employee's off-duty conduct is harming the business and the company has the right to suspend without pay or to terminate the employee.
- If the answers of the two questions are "No", then, the employee's off-duty conduct is not the employer's concern.

Organizational Image

Cont'd

- In general, employees often represent their company's image on and off the job.
- Now ask yourself:
 - ▶ "How do outsiders think of me because of my association with this organization?"
 - ▶ "How do outsiders think of my organization because of me?"

Work Attitudes

Work Attitude

Cont'd

“Attitude isn't everything, but it's close.”

New York Times headline, August 6, 2006.

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

Most of research focuses on three attitudes:

1- Job Satisfaction

2- Organizational Commitment

3- Employee Engagement

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

1- Job Satisfaction:

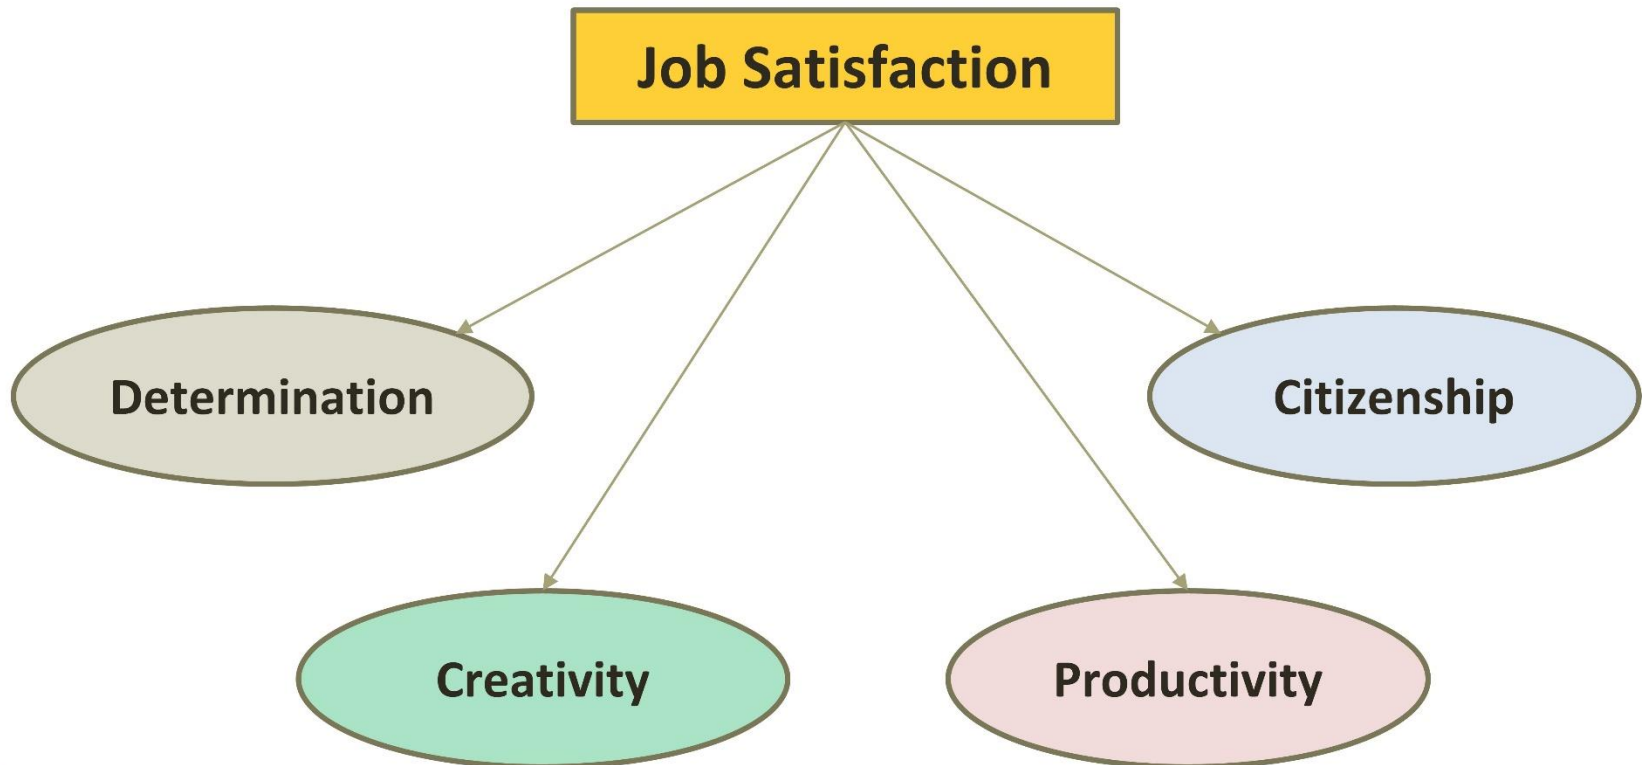

When people speak of employee attitudes, they usually mean job satisfaction, which describes a positive feeling about a job, resulting from an evaluation of its characteristics.

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

1- Job Satisfaction:

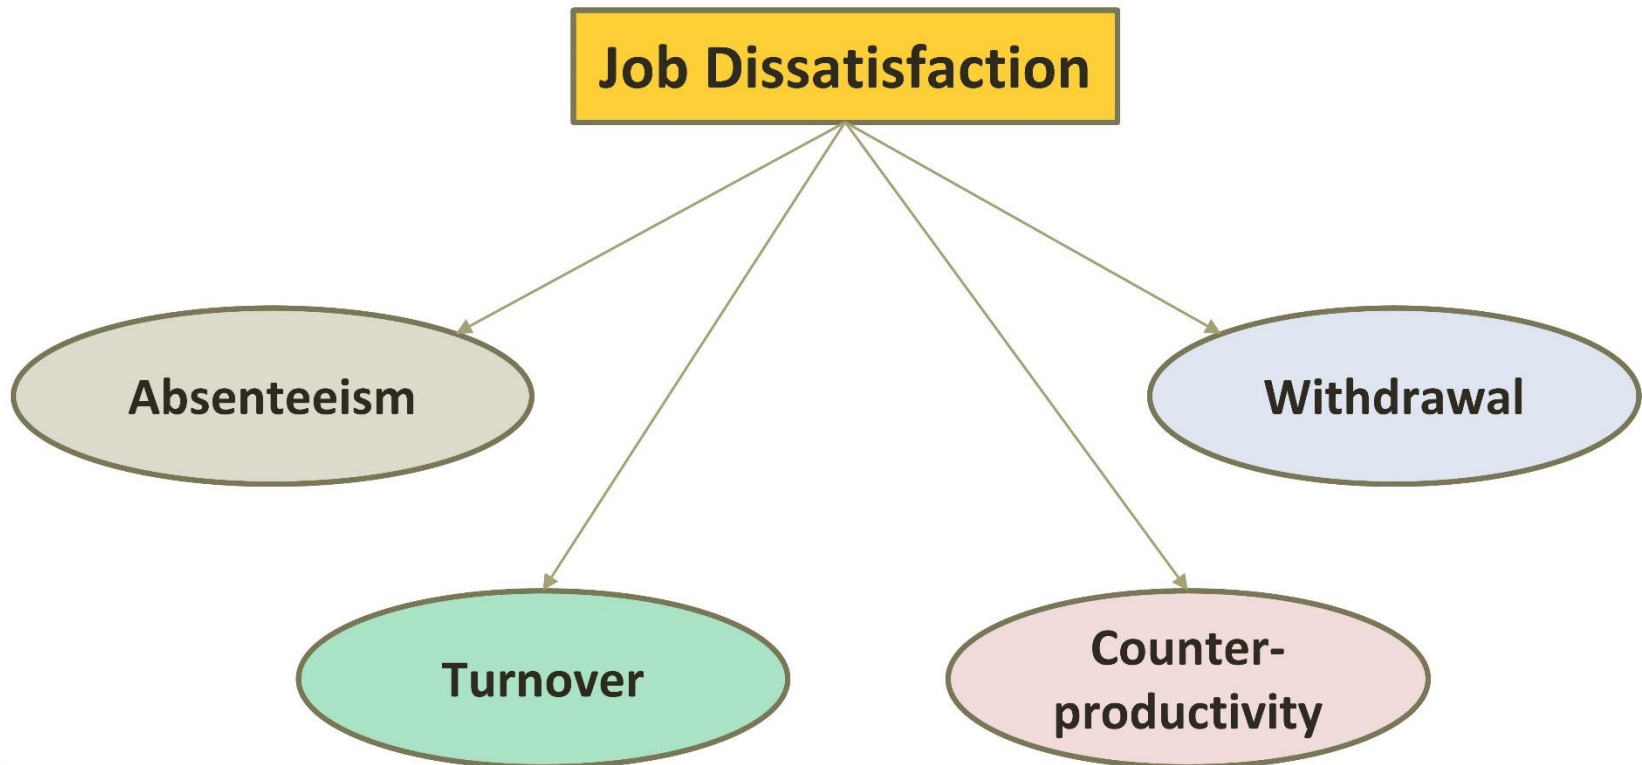

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

1- Job Satisfaction:

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

2- Organizational Commitment:

COMMITMENT MEANS
STAYING LOYAL TO
WHAT YOU SAID YOU
WERE GOING TO DO
LONG AFTER THE
MOOD YOU SAID IT IN
HAS LEFT YOU.

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

2- Organizational Commitment:

- The degree to which an employee identifies with a particular organization and its goals and wishes to maintain membership in the organization.
- Committed employees are loyal and emotionally attached to an organization, and believe in its values.

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

2- Organizational Commitment:

Types of Organizational Commitment

Affective Commitment

- Enjoying your work and have strong emotional attachment to your organization
- Feeling good and satisfied with your job
- Genuinely want to be there

Continuance Commitment

- Leaving organization will cause losses that you can not afford
- Losses can be monetary, professional or social
- Severity of losses increase with age and seniority

Normative Commitment

- Feeling a sense of obligation to your organization
- Feeling 'moral' obligation to 'repay the debt'
- Normative commitment is higher in organizations that value loyalty

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

3- Employee Engagement:

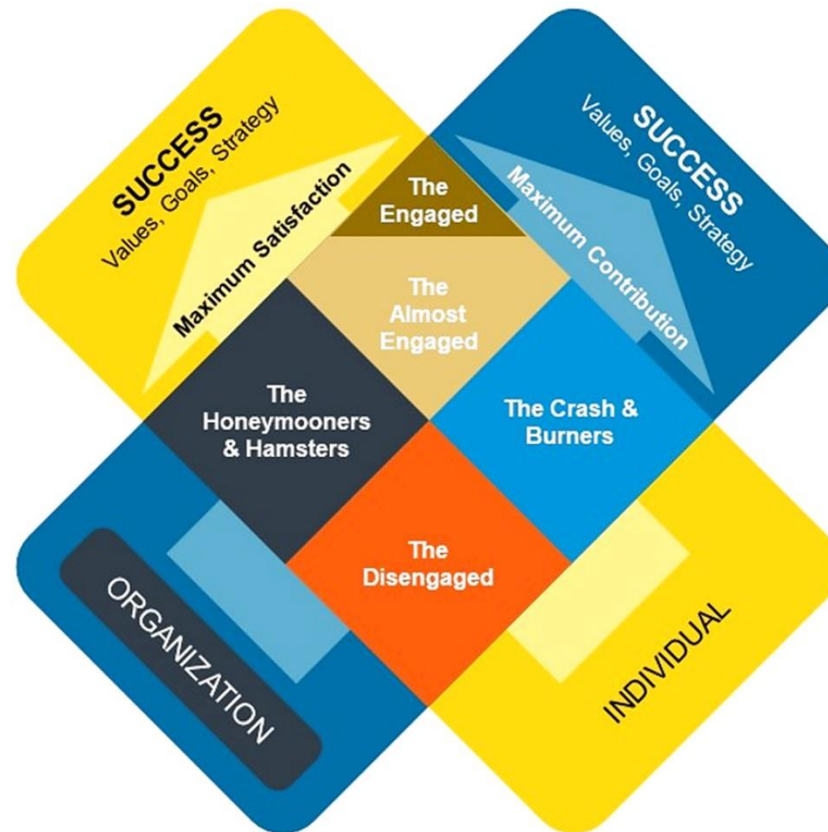

- An individual's involvement with, satisfaction with, and enthusiasm for the work he or she does.
- Highly engaged employees have a passion for their work and feel a deep connection to their company; disengaged employees have essentially checked out, putting time but not energy or attention into their work.

Work Attitude

Cont'd

Major Work Attitudes

3- Employee Engagement:

Going the Extra Mile

Going The Extra Mile

- Going the extra mile is defined as doing more without being asked.
- Going the extra mile shows you care about quality work, that you take responsibility seriously.

Going The Extra Mile

Cont'd

- Volunteer your strengths and go beyond your job description.
- Take initiatives and try to solve problems, rather than to pass them on to other people.
- Don't always focus on WIIFM

Personal Distance and Privacy

Personal Distance

- Never go through anyone else's personal belongings.
- It is shabby to look through people's computers, e-mails, letters, mobiles or papers.
- Personal space distance is minimum 1.22 meter. (Edward T. Hall)

Personal Distance

Cont'd

Don't be too casual...

- Avoid making overly personal statements about appearance.
- Refrain from giving colleagues nicknames.
- Never call anyone a boy or girl, honey, dear

Privacy and Intellectual Properties

- Conserve the privacy of others' personal properties, laptop, PC, mobile, personal or work documents and any other personal belongings.
- Don't copy company's software licenses.
- Don't use company's tools and methodologies outside work.
- Respect the Non- disclosure Agreement (NDA) you sign with clients or with your company.

Personal Appearance and Dress Code

Work Dress Code

Cont'd

- Understand what's appropriate in your industry.
- If your company has a dress code, follow it.
- Avoid neon colors.
- Go for quality over quantity.
- Error on the side of being more formal than being too casual.
- Business casual outfit is different from sportive clothes.

Business Etiquette

Business Etiquette

Etiquette Definition:

A set of rules that helps people understand how they should behave in particular business or professional situations.

Cambridge Business English Dictionary

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Office Etiquette

- Maintain stringent standards of personal hygiene. Clean up after you use the cafeteria, restrooms, snack area, or any other shared area.
- Monitor the volume of your conversations and phone calls.
- If eating at your desk avoid eating foods strong in smells and aromas – it can become unpleasant.
- Keep your desk and your personal workspace clean and neat at all times.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Office Etiquette

- If you reach a door first, you should open it, go through it, and hold it to ensure that it doesn't hit the person following.
- If you are nearest the door of the elevator, you get in first; then hold the door until everyone else has entered.
- In the elevator, if you are near the control panel, ask the others what floor they need and select those buttons for them. You can also hold the Open button to keep the doors open until everyone has had the chance to get on or off.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Office Etiquette

- If you are receiving a visitor in your office, be sure to come out from behind your desk to greet him or her, or better still, meet the person at the door, usher him in, and show him where to sit.
- When visiting someone else's office, don't walk in and settle down as if you were entering your own office. First, ask if it's okay to interrupt and if the host looks busy, come back later or make the visit as short as possible.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Greeting Etiquette

- Rise if seated.
- Smile, maintain eye contact.
- Extend your hand.
- Repeat the other person's name in your greeting.
- Introduce yourself:

"Hello, I am _____ <your name>,"

I am the _____ <your job title>," with company _____ <your company>".

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Introducing Others

- A less important person is introduced to a more important person.
- A younger person is introduced to an older person.
- Regarding the gender, a man should be introduced to the woman first.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

Test Your Etiquette Intelligence

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

1- In business situations, what's right?

- a. Only men should stand for introductions and shaking hands.
- b. Only women should stand for introductions and shaking hands.
- c. It is not necessary for men or women to stand for either handshaking or introductions.
- d. Both men and women should stand for handshaking and all introductions.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

2- In business situations, a man is required to:

- a. To pull a chair out for a woman.
- b. To stand when a woman leaves the table.
- c. To act as "host".
- d. All of the above.
- e. None of the above.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

3- If you receive e-mail from an unknown source and realize it should be handled by someone else, you should:

- a. Forward it immediately.
- b. Forward it with a note explaining why you are sending it.
- c. Consider it spam, delete it, and forget about it.
- d. Print it out, leave it on the printer, and hope someone else takes care of it.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

4- If you are introducing two people, but can't remember one person's name, what can you say or do?

- a. "Do you know each other?"
- b. "I can't remember your name. Can you introduce yourself?"
- c. Say nothing, do nothing, and hope they introduce themselves.
- d. "It's been one of those days! Please tell me your name again."

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

5- When making a formal business introduction of a client to your company Managing Director you should:

- a. Do what feels right.
- b. Introduce your client to the Managing Director.
- c. Introduce the Managing Director to your client.
- d. Don't do anything. It is their responsibility to introduce themselves.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

6- After a meeting in your office with a potential client , you should:

- a. Tell him: "Don't call us, we'll call you."
- b. Accompany them to your reception area or elevator.
- c. Give him some chocolate.
- d. Give them a handshake and a big hug and tell them that you can't wait to see them again.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

7- You are in a business meeting or conference and your cell phone rings. The call is not emergency. What should you do?

- a. Answer it immediately, and don't get outside, but keep the call brief.
- b. Ignore it and pretend someone else's phone is ringing.
- c. Apologize and switch your phone to silent mode.
- d. Leave the table without saying anything and answer the call outside.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

8- A co-worker comes to your office to introduce you to a friend of his. You:

- a. Smile and nod.
- b. You stand up, establish eye contact, smile and tell him it's nice to meet him.
- c. Smile, establish eye contact and wave.
- d. Stand up and give him a "high five".

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

9- After a meeting with a client, in order to express your thanks, it is appropriate to:

- a. Send him a small box of chocolates with a note.
- b. Drop by the office and give him a hot cup of coffee.
- c. Send a dozen of red roses to his home.
- d. Send a thank you e-mail.

Business Etiquette

Cont'd

10- If you walk into the office of a person you do not know, what should you do?

- a. Greet him with a smile and offer to shake his hand. It's important to be a polite guest when entering someone's office.
- b. You enter his office slowly with a pleasant expression on your face, you greet him first, introduce yourself and wait for him to offer to shake your hand.
- c. You greet him, introduce yourself first, then you take a seat.
- d. You just enter his office with a pleasant expression on your face and immediately tell him how beautiful his office is.

Thank You